What is Data Science?

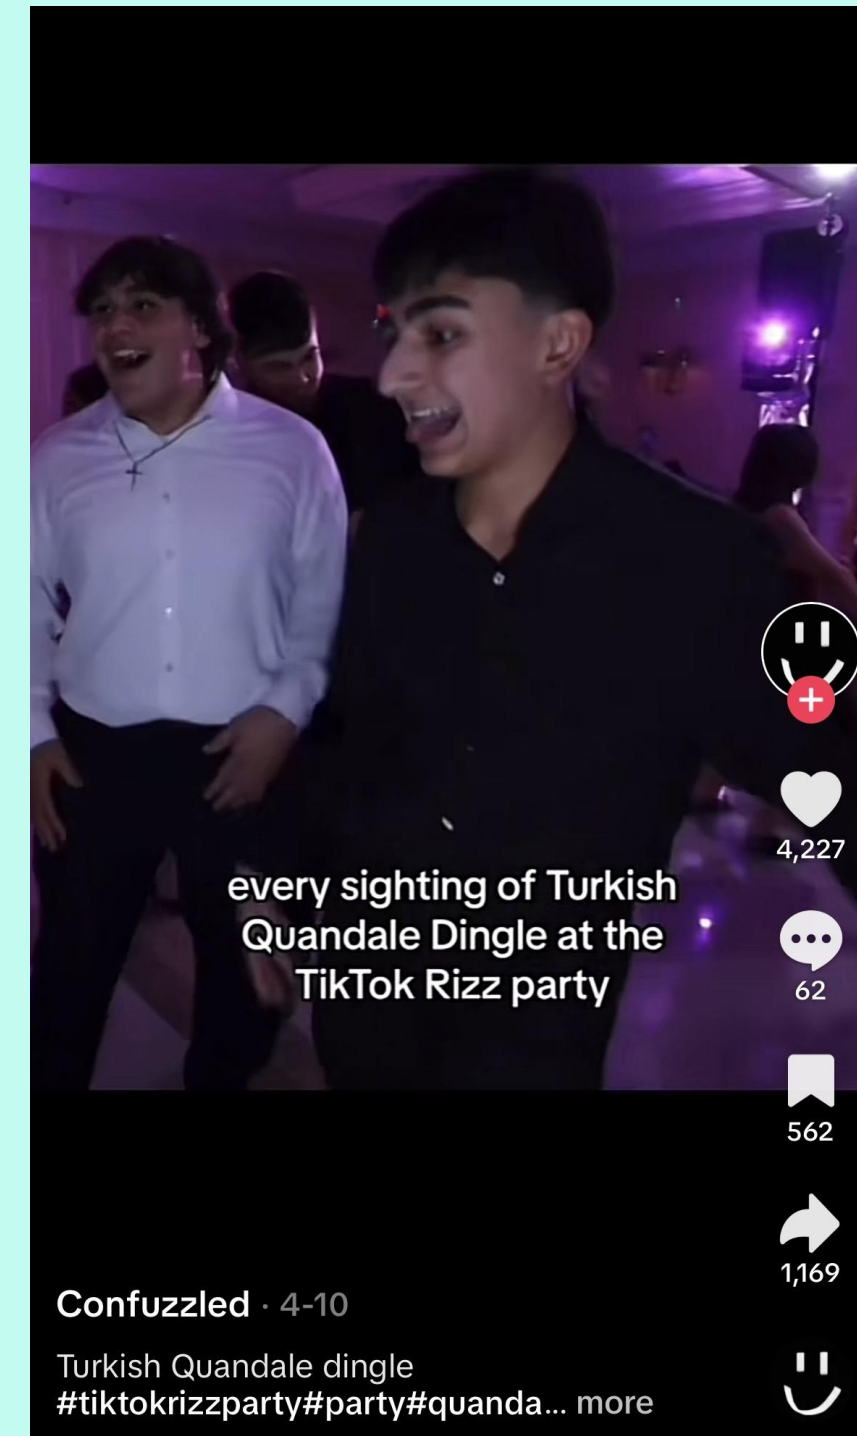

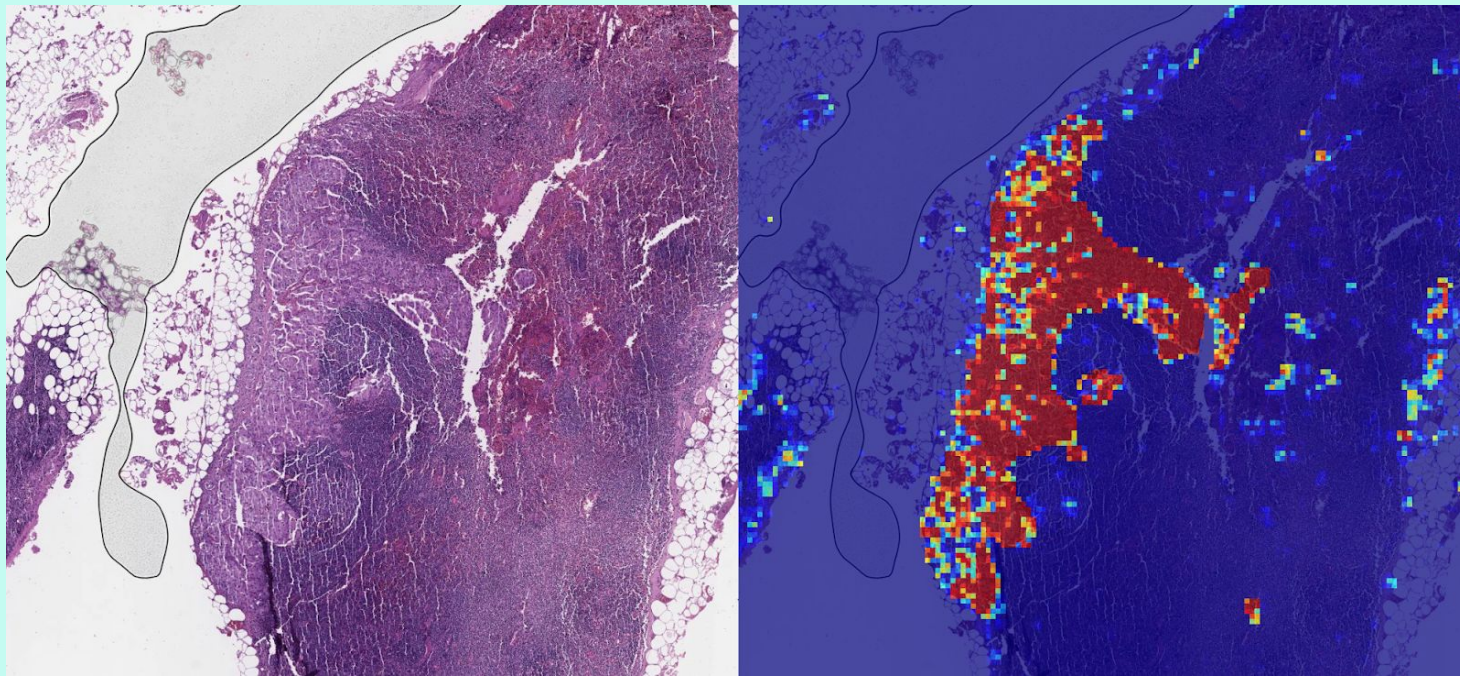

What is Data Science?

Data science is a field which allows us to extract information from data. Data scientists often use statistics and computational methods to do this. It is a very widely applicable field that is used in areas such as finance, healthcare and tech.

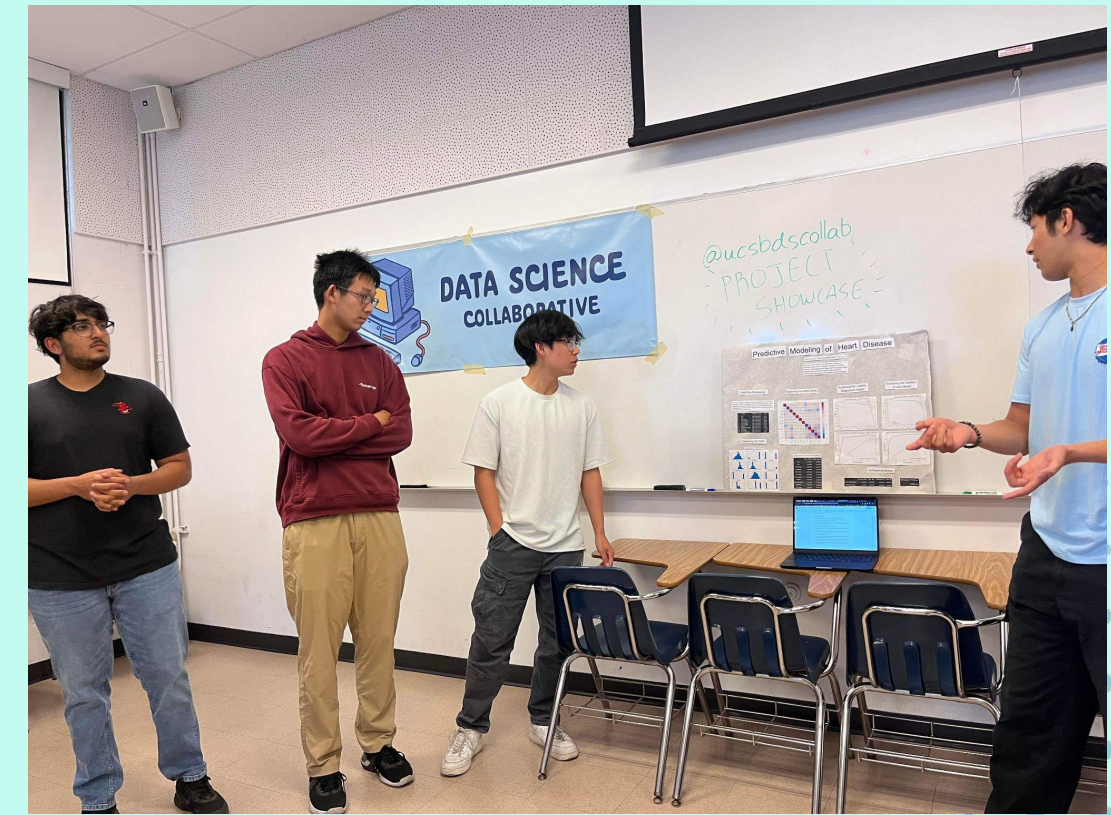

What is Data Science?

What's Our Mission?

- To provide accessible data science skills to anyone interested regardless of experience
- To create an inclusive community for all those interested in data science to connect
- To allow all members to participate in our end of year project showcase
 - TO HAVE A FUN YEAR !!!
